

PHEX + WAS A GREAT SHOW FOR SANIFLO

"An exceptionally busy show with plenty of leads and enquiries," said Martyn Andreoli, SANIFLO's stand manager for PHEX+ 2017, who was delighted with a packed out stand for the duration of the two-day show at Alexandra Palace in London. The show was the first public outing of the new Saniflo UP range of pumps and macerators, launched a few weeks before the show, which took place on 17 and 18 May. Visitors to the stand were able to get hands on with the new products and find out more about the technological upgrades from the Saniflo sales team. Installers and plumbers will be now invited to attend the Saniflo roadshow, which is taking place throughout the summer at nationwide merchants.

WE'RE GOING TO NEED A BIGGER BOX!

Since launching our all in one hot water solution last year, the Big Magic Thermodynamic Box (BMTB) - offering our customers an industry leading Solar Assisted Heat Pump combined with either a 130 or 200 litre hot water storage cylinder, we have been inundated with interest and orders for these MCS approved, ERP A-rated systems.

With a heat loss of as little as five degrees over a 48 hour period not only are our customers benefitting from generating their own hot water day and night, all year but they also keep it hotter for longer!

Now, as the production line sees both our LMTBs and BMTBs boxed up and shipped to a growing network worldwide, we look to the future and a bigger box.

Our expansion has seen a

A NEW LOOK FOR SIME'S WEBSITE

Intelligent heating and hot water solutions provider SIME LTD has completely redeveloped and relaunched its website. Live from the beginning of May 2017, the redesigned website delivers an easy to navigate user experience with clearly defined areas for homeowners and installers, in addition to a section dedicated to commercial products. The face lift forms part of a strategic rebrand for the UK division of Sime with the aim of increasing awareness of Sime boilers within the UK market. Sime has also recently rolled out new look domestic marketing literature including brochures, price lists and posters which are currently being distributed to merchants across the country.
